HYDRO SCHEME PLANS DELAYED

• Abingdon Hydro secretary Richard Riggs

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A BUILD date for the £1.25million hydroelectricity station in Abingdon to power up to 120 homes has been delayed again until next year.

But project leaders from Abingdon Hydro community group - spearheading the scheme - have said the designs are now being finalised.

They are expecting detailed plans for the hydro plant in the River Thames at Abbey Meadow from engineering consultants in August.

The station would use two Archimedes screws to generate hydroelectricity from the river at Abingdon Weir.

Abingdon Hydro's company secretary, Richard Riggs, said: "We've hired an engineering consultant who is currently drawing up plans. We'll then put that to contractors and there will be a tender process.

"Whoever wins the bid will be building the station.

"We don't want to rush into anything, it's a very long process."

Not-for-profit Abingdon Hydro was set up by residents to fund and run the project.

The company have so far raised £820,000 of the target £1.25m through the sale of shares.

Abingdon Hydro chairman and shareholder Pat Lonergan said: "I'm incredibly excited about this project, it's a great community scheme.

"We have 400 shareholders, which shows how popular this idea is."

'Maverick' grandad died in plane crash

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

THE wife of a Witney pilot who died in a microlight plane crash at Enysham Airfield described her husband as a 'bit of a maverick'.

Retired GP Connor Morris, known as Ed, was flying the microlight when it crash-landed on July 3 in front of his family watching on.

He and passenger Keith Poulton, his wife's cousin from Rugby in Warwickshire, both died from multiple injuries – Oxfordshire Coroner Darren Salter ruled on Tuesday.

Mr Morris's wife Lesley Morris, 62, said: "It was my father's birthday, we watched the whole thing.

"We went to their airfield with them.

"We were supposed to watch them fly and then they'd meet us at the pub later."

Ed was a GP and senior partner at Nuffield Practice in Welch Way until he retired in September 2012.

The 63-year-old from Church Green leaves behind two daughters Katy, 33, Matilda, 31, and grandchildren Lily, 14, Tom, 11, and Hamish, three.

An inquest into his death opened at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court in New Road and was postponed until an Air Accident Investigation Branch has finished an inquiry into the crash.

Mrs Morris, who runs Witney-based Voice Box choir, added: "Ed was a quiet man but definitely a bit of a maverick. He loved his family and the town.

"We've received hundreds of tributes from his patients.

"He was very community minded. He became a GP because his heart was with people.

"We've been looking through all the photos.

"We're Quakers so he was involved in a lot of Quaker work, he was really loved in the community.

"He was involved with St Mary's Church giving financial advice to people who needed help. The funeral is going to be very big."

• Mr Morris was described as much loved in the community

Mr Morris's funeral is to be held on Tuesday, July 21, at St Mary's Church in Church Green, and will be lead by the Bishop of Reading Andrew Proud.

Paramedics were called to Enstone Airfield at 7.16pm but both men were declared dead at the scene.

The A40 North Bypass Road, A44 Woodstrock Road, Sunderland Avenue and A40 Elsfield Way will also be widened.

Oxfordshire councils unveil their new home

• Lord Lieutenant of Oxfordshire Tim Stevenson declaring the new headquarters open

TWO Oxfordshire district councils formally opened their new home on Tuesday.

South Oxfordshire District Council and Vale of White Horse District Council officially opened their new offices in Milton Park on Tuesday.

The councils' former offices at Crowmarsh Gifford near Wallingford were destroyed by an arson fire in January.

Chief Executive of the councils, David Buckle said: "Its really good to be able to find a semi-permanent home.

"We moved in three weeks ago but we wanted to have a proper opening."

Leader of South Oxfordshire council, John Cotton, said: "This is our new home for the next three or four years. It's been a tough six months but the staff have done so well."

The councils are deciding whether to rebuild the old offices or find a new permanent home.

Skates on for Abingdon ice rink proposal

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

AN OUTDOOR temporary ice skating rink could be built in Abingdon in time for Christmas, a town boss has confirmed.

Leader of Vale of White Horse District Council Matthew Barber said he would like to see an ice skating rink at Abbey Meadows open in time to run alongside the town's annual Christmas Extravaganza.

Cllr Barber made the comments at a cabinet meeting at the new council offices in Milton Park on Friday.

He said: "I would like to see the ice skating rink up and running by this Christmas to tie in with the Chamber of Commerce's Christmas Extravaganza.

"We need to look at the business model for having something in place this winter."

But he confirmed most of the other renovations to Abbey Meadows are delayed until 2016 - as the Guardian reported last week.

The ice rink would be part of Vale council's £500,000 plans to revamp Abbey Meadows.

District councillor and Abingdon town councillor Sandy Lovatt said: "There has been talk about these renovations for years, we've got some firm ideas at last.

"The ice skating rink is quite far down the list but it strikes me as a very good idea."

The cabinet discussed a recent survey carried out on Abingdon residents.

Results showed Abingdon residents want to keep the outdoor pool at Abbey Meadows.

It also found residents were in favour of improvements to the site including new picnic benches and an improved changing rooms.

The council is in the process of selecting a project manager for the Abbey Meadows improvements -

They are to be chosen by the end of August

Work was due to begin on the site this summer however the council have said the revamp is not likely to start until 2016.

Vale councillor Michael Murray said at the meeting: "There is a lot of low hanging fruit such as the improvements to the seating which could be completed by Christmas."

• District and Abingdon town councillor Sandy Lovatt says he would like to see an ice rink in Abingdon

Abingdon hydro designs being finalised

• From front page

So far around £70,000 has been spent on the initial stages.

Work on the hydroelectric station was origionally due to begin in summer 2014.

This date was delayed to summer this year due to flooding in early 2014 while funds were raised and designs altered.

A new build date of summer 2016 was given by Mr Riggs last week.

Mr Lonergan, who is also a town and district councillor, said: "We want this project for a number of reasons.

"First of all it's a source of clean energy. It's also a sound business idea, which should make our local investors money.

"It will also put Abingdon on the map. We're hoping the station will be a tourist attraction."

Mr Riggs added: "The structure of the company is one in which the investors will only be able to receive up to a certain percentage of interest on their shares. The leftover money will then be put back into a community fund."

Mr Lonergan said: "We would allocate the funds much like the town council does.

"People will be able to put in bids and shareholders will choose how the community money is allocated."

Vale of White Horse District Council approved planning permission for the site in October 2013.

During the consultation period the council received three letters of objection.

Once the final designs and costing are finished, Abingdon Hydro will decide how to raise the remaining funds for the build.

Loans are being considered to make up the £430,000 shortfall.

Mr Riggs said they could secure a social loan from investors if they prove the project will be of a social benefit to Abingdon.

Oxford streets run pink

OXFORD turned pink last weekend for this year's Race for Life.

The 5km race, organised by Cancer Research UK, kicked off on Sunday from University Parks.

Over 3,000 women took part in the charity event.

Rebecca Lacey, 23, took part in the race, and said: "I really enjoyed it. It was my first time doing it and I didn't know what to expect.

"I wanted to get involved because my nan died of lung cancer this year and I wanted to do it in her memory.

"My friends and family came to watch. It was great to have their support."

Rebecca set up a Just Giving page and shared it on social media to raise funds.

The lifestyle blogger from Cowley added: "I managed to raise about £175.

"I think it's a great event and a great cause. It raises awareness about cancer and Cancer Research UK."

She added: "Its only for women so its women battling against cancer."

Student speaks out on 'racism' at university

AN OXFORD student has spoken out over the racism that she feels that black minority ethnic (BME) students face at Oxford University.

Christ Church College student Kirandeep Benipal, 19, from East London, said that being a BME student at the university is like 'being a guest in someone else's home'.

Miss Benipal is the current co-chair of student society CRAE (Campaign for Racial Awareness and Equality) and is also a member of campaign group Rhodes Must Fall Oxford.

The group is inspired by a similar organisation at the University of Cape Town, who successfully campaigned to bring down a statue of Cecil Rhodes on their campus in April this year.

The Oxford group is now calling for the university to take down its own statue of Rhodes, who was an Oriel College student in 1873.

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Miss Benipal said: "When you walk past the statue, it feels like another type of violence, when you think about what this man did and the fact that the university has a statue dedicated to him."

Rhodes is seen as a figure of colonialism due to the fact that he made his fortune in South Africa's Kimberley diamond mines in the late 1800s.

The university currently brings students from around the world to study at the university due to the Rhodes scholarship, which was set up in his name.

A statement from Oriel College read: "Cecil Rhodes' legacy helped to fund the construction of a new building.

"Now, over a century after the building was constructed he is thought of very differently.

• Kirandeep Benipal (centre) with members of Rhodes Must Fall

"The college draws a clear line between acknowledging the historical fact of Rhodes' donation and in any way condoning his political views."

Miss Benipal believes there is a palpable racial fear for BME students at the university and that 'they cannot be silent about these things any more'.

She pointed to her and fellow BME students being ID-checked at the university on a regular basis, and claimed fellow white students are not often checked when it came to getting into college halls or lectures.

Miss Benipal, who is of Indian descent, said: "I've never seen white students get ID-checked but I still get it on a regular basis."

Oxford University spokesperson Julia Paolitto said: "We reject in the strongest terms any allegations of institutional bias or discrimination.

"Such claims are unsubstantiated and we are concerned that unfounded allegations could undermine our efforts to attract and admit black and minority ethnic students."

Concerns over nine-day transport plan analysis

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

ENVIRONMENTAL campaigners have raised concerns that Oxfordshire County Council has given itself just nine days to consider public responses to a £80m transport plan for the county.

The Oxfordshire branch of Campaign to Protect Rural England (CPRE) is worried councillors won't have enough time to consider plans that could see the relocation of Oxford's existing Park and Ride sites.

The council held a public consultation between February and April to outline proposals, after previously unveiling plans to close the current sites at Seacourt, Redbridge and Pear Tree to replace them with new sites at Eynsham, Cumnor, Lodge Hill, Sandford-on-Thames and Kidlington.

CPRE Oxfordshire added that according to documents they have obtained, purchasing new sites would cost £64m with a further £15m needed for access works.

Helen Marshall, the director of CPRE Oxfordshire, said: "We understand they received a high level of responses so how can councillors possibly absorb this information and the officers' conclusions so quickly?"

Ms Marshall is concerned that the public responses will not be properly considered, as the cabinet is set vote on accepting the 'local transport plan' next Tuesday.

She added: "We think this calls into question the fairness and accuracy of the consultation.

"The public need to know their views are taken seriously and that there is a genuine willingness to modify the plan if required.

"The local transport plan will have a dramatic impact on the future of our county, and is far too important to be rushed."

Hugh Jaeger, chair of Bus Users Oxford, said: "I can see the logic behind bringing out these new potential park and rides further out of the city to ease congestion.

"However, to do this for £80m is far too much of the council's money when the current Park and Rides are performing relatively well.

Paul Smith, spokesperson for the county council, denied the plans to move the sites.

He said: "The local transport plan presented to cabinet has been updated as a result of consultation.

"In the light of feedback to the consultation, the council proposes undertaking a more detailed assessment of proposed sites and the future role of existing sites over the next 12 months."

However, Oxford City Council leader Bob Price states that they have no plans to change the Seacourt, Redbridge and Pear Tree sites - which it runs - in the future.

He said: "The discussion that needs to take place in the context of this assessment is how viable outer sites would be and where they might be.

"The city council owns and controls three of the current sites and there is no plan to change their use in the foreseeable future."

Celebrations for school

THE Lord Lieutenant of Oxfordshire opened a brand new revamped building at a Cowley primary school on Friday.

Tim Stevenson OBE was on hand to cut the ribbon unveiling Tyndale Primary Free School's new building.

• Tim Stevenson introduces himself to the pupils

The school, in William Morris Close, serves up to 100 children and celebrated its second birthday on the same day.

The school currently has two classes for its year 1 and year 2 students and is due to get an intake of another 50 students when the school begins classes for a new reception year in September.

Assistant principal Esther Cummins said: "Today has been a great second birthday for the school. It is a truly wonderful birthday gift to be in our newly refurbished building."

The new building features three classrooms, an activities hall, kitchen, community lounge, nurture rooms and offices for the school staff.

Ms Cummins added: "Our party celebrated the achievements of pupils, parents and the community for years to come."

Suffia Hussain, a school parent said at the unveiling: "This school has been a transformation for my daughter."

Oxford schoolgirl climbs Kilimanjaro for her baby sister

• Olivia Maiden and dad Dan climbed Ben Nevis last year

• One-year-old Florence Maiden

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

AN OXFORD schoolgirl could become one of the youngest in the world to conquer Mount Kilimanjaro, as she takes on the climb in memory of her baby sister.

Dragon School pupil Olivia Maiden, 13, and her dad Dan Maiden will begin the five-day climb on August 7.

The pair are raising money for Oxford's Helen & Douglas House hospice - which supported Olivia's one-year-old sister Florence before her death on November 28, 2008.

Olivia said: "The day my younger sister was born we were all delighted with our beautiful healthy baby, but then she started to get sick.

"The doctors originally thought it was nothing but later on they diagnosed her with Leigh's Disease.

"Sadly, after her first birthday party, she died.

"Helen and Douglas House gave her the best last moments of her life, in the spa room with the jacuzzi, in the art room, and in many other brilliant places."

Florence was born on August 21, 2007, and was later diagnosed with the mitochondrial disorder which causes loss of mental and movement abilities - and can cause death from respiratory failure.

So far the dad and daughter duo have raised nearly £6,200, exceeding their £5,000 target.

Olivia is a boarding student at the Dragon School in Bardwell Road but her family live in Gloucester.

And the task of climbing the 5,895m peak – the equivalent of 1,345 double decker buses – will be no easy feat.

Children have to be at least 10 years old to climb Mount Kilimanjaro, but an exception was made for seven-year-old Keats Boyd from Los Angeles to hold the title of the youngest Mount Kilimanjaro climber.

Olivia added: "'I'm not a natural at sport but I like climbing mountains and I'm just a bit determined."

Mr Maiden, 45, said: "I feel so excited to be able to share this extraordinary journey of a lifetime with Olivia.

"Kilimanjaro is a beautiful, powerful and mysterious giant."

He added: "All the generous charity donations from friends, family and colleagues will certainly motivate us."

Four deny slavery charges

FOUR people pleaded not guilty to slavery and fraud charges at Oxford Crown Court last Thursday after police raids at a travellers' site in March.

Christopher Joyce, 81, Mary Joyce, 59, Timothy Joyce Senior, 44 and Helen Collins, 44, all of Redbridge Hollow, were among 12 people arrested as part of Operation Rague on March 26.

Christopher Joyce pleaded not guilty to one count of slavery, one of forced labour, and declined to enter a plea for a charge of fraud.

His wife Mary pleaded not guilty to one count of slavery, one of forced labour, and one count of conspiracy to defraud.

The charges against Christopher and Mary Joyce relate to alleged offences against a victim at Redbridge Hollow between April 6, 2010 and February 9, 2015.

His son, Timothy Joyce Senior, pleaded not guilty to four slavery counts, two counts of actual bodily harm, four counts of threatening a person with violence, four counts of making a threat to kill, one count of affray, one count of blackmail and one count of assault by beating.

He also pleaded guilty to three counts of fraud, but not guilty to a fourth count of fraud.

Collins pleaded not guilty to two slavery counts and one count of fraud.

Christopher and Mary Joyce and Collins were all released on bail until August 10, while Timothy Joyce Senior remains in custody.

Of the 12 arrested, four men have now been released without charge.

A 20-year-old man has been rebailed until August 4, and a 45-year-old man was rebailed until August 7.

A 19-year-old man was bailed until yesterday, but police are yet to confirm if he was charged, rebailed or released.

Timothy Joyce Senior's son, Timothy Joyce Junior, 27, also of Redbridge Hollow, was charged as part of Operation Rague on April 6 and appeared in court yesterday.

He pleaded not guilty to intimidation, making threats to kill, affray and possessing an offensive weapon in public.

Officers conducted search warrants in Redbridge Hollow, Hinksey Hill and properties in Blackbird Leys and Rose Hill as part of the operation.

All five will appear in court on August 10 for a pre-trial review.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and James is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Superheroes prowl Oxford's streets

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

OXFORD'S streets were awash with 900 caped crusaders during an overnight moonlight march raising money for a Headington hospice on Saturday.

The superhero-themed Oxford Moonlight Stroll returned for its ninth year with a nine-mile walk through the city.

The Sobell House Hospice fundraiser saw Captain Americas, Batmans, and even Winnie the Pooh prowling the Oxford streets until 3am.

Hospice spokesman Kevin Game said: "It's been a great night. The vibe between walkers has been fantastic and the superhero theme has really taken off.

"Everyone loves a superhero."

Oxford resident Amanda Thomas and 11 friends dressed as popular kids cartoon characters called Minions.

The 43-year-old from Headington said: "I asked my six and seven-year-old children if Minions are superheroes, and they said, 'yes – because they stopped the moon from being stolen'.

• Amanda Thomas and her friends raised more than £1,400 dressed as Minions

"I signed up on my own at first but then I coaxed a few work friends to join me. Then their friends got involved and it spiralled until there were 11 of us.

"The idea to dress as Minions came from one of the women who did it with us. I think its why we raised so much money."

Amanda and her friends raised a total of £1,413.

She added: "My granddad spend a lot of time there and I know so many people whose lives have been touched by Sobell House."

Miss Oxfordshire 2015, Layla Claridge, started the walkers off from St Edward's School in Woodstock Road.

She said: "The atmosphere was really quite amazing. Everyone was really getting into the spirit of things.

"There was a very good Batman costume that looked like it came straight out of the movie.

"I think its a great charity and cause that affects a lot of people. It's great they run events that everyone can get involved with."

Organisers hope to have raised £90,000 from the Oxford Moonlight Stroll.

Landlord given £6,000 HMO fine

AN OXFORD landlord was fined £6,000 at Oxford Magistrates' Court last Monday for breaching multi-occupancy regulations.

Jeffeth Juniour Latchman, of Lower Road, Garsington, was found guilty of seven breaches of 'house in multiple occupation' (HMO) management regulations.

His property in Gaisford Road was found in a serious state of disrepair when it was inspected in September 2014.

After a complaint from a tenant in November last year, another inspection found the ceiling had collapsed, the fire escape routes were partially blocked and both the front and bedroom doors could not be opened from the inside without a key.

Latchman was previously convicted in January 2015 for failing to licence an HMO or comply with the management regulations.

The court also ordered him to pay £1,555 in costs.

Scott Seamons, the council's board member for housing, said: "Landlords have a duty to manage their properties and keep them in good repair.

"We believe it's important to inform tenants of the standards they can expect in HMOs."

Cornbury entertains thousands over its star-studded weekend

• The entrance

• Sir Tom Jones takes to the stage

SIENNA Miller, Jeremy Clarkson, and Orlando Bloom were spotted among the 12,000-strong crowd at Cornbury Music Festival over the weekend.

The celebrities joined families, revellers and music fanatics singing and swaying to a star-studded line-up at Great Tew Park near Banbury.

The 12th Cornbury Music Festival saw Sir Tom Jones, Lulu, Razorlight and Billy Ocean take to the Pleasant Valley Stage.

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Festival director, Hugh Phillimore was in good spirits when he spoke to the Guardian during the festivities.

Hugh said: "We've been incredibly lucky with the acts we've got. It takes the best part of a year to put together and I'm very pleased with how it's all going.

"The crowd's have been fantastic as always and weather's been really kind to us."

The crowd enjoyed an eclectic mix of folk, pop, blues and indie across the four stages.

But 75-year-old Tom Jones was the star of the show for many on Saturday night.

Laura Orengo, 50, from Harrow, near Middlesex, said: "We couldn't wait to see Tom Jones, he's the real highlight. He's a legend and has so many good songs."

Banbury mum Olga Bibikoff, 50, took her daughter Xena, 20, along to the festival for the first time.

Olga said: "I've been here a few times but this time I took Xena along and I couldn't be more excited for Tom Jones, and we're loving the festival because its really is a good day out and perfect for having a good time with the family."

Sir Jones bellowed out the classics including 'It's Not Unusual' and 'Sex bomb' in his signature drawl.

The weekend had a tangibly relaxed atmosphere to it.

Families sat around in clusters in the sunshine taking advantage of a handful of local food and drink options.

Julian Darke, 46, from Headington, said: "The best thing about Cornbury is that it's not too big, it's got a bit of everything, the complete family festival."

Julian and friend, Wayne Holden, 46, both brought their families along for the event and we're big fans of the weekend's indie artists.

Wayne said: "The line-up looked great and Razorlight and The Fratellis were fantastic last night, really blew us away."

Lynne Scott, 53 was experiencing Cornbury for the first time and said: "We're already planning on coming back next year!

"There's so much to see."

Oxford hospice trustees stand by nun decision

THE trustees of Helen & Douglas House have said they acted within their duty by banning its founder, Sister Frances Dominica, from returning to the Cowley-based hospices.

The nun, 72, who was given an OBE in 2006 for her services to healthcare, was arrested in November 2013 for suspected indecent assault.

She wholly denies the allegations and was never charged by police.

Sister Frances was told to leave by Helen & Douglas House on the recommendation of an independent risk assessment commissioned by the hospices and All Saints Sisters of the Poor, where she was Mother Superior for 12 years.

The hospice's trustees said in a statement released last Thursday: "We, too, are saddened by the circumstances and understand the situation is deeply distressing for Sister Frances.

"However we have to comply with requirements of the Care Quality Commission (CQC) and adhere to their safeguarding standards when considering the future management of the hospice.

"The risk assessment was completed earlier this year. It has been our duty to implement the report's recommendations in order to secure the future of the hospices."

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Thames Valley Police spokeswoman Charlotte Redman said police received allegations of indecent assault, which took place in Oxford between 1980 and 2000.

She said: "The offences were reported to police in July 2013 by a third party and subsequent investigations identified two female victims.

"A 72-year-old woman was arrested in connection with the investigation in November 2013, on suspicion of indecent assault on a woman over 16 years of age."

The hospices reiterated that the allegations did not relate in any way to activities at Helen & Douglas House.

Since the allegations were made public, Sister Frances has received public support from charities.

Rupert Wiles, chair of the trustees for React - a children's charity that provides assistance to children with potentially terminal illnesses - said: "React gives Sister Frances Dominica its full support and she remains our sole patron to guide and advise the charity."

Enjoy the town's hidden gems

AS Oxfordshire Guardian readers will have spotted, June was, as we planned, a very busy month indeed for Wallingford with events on every weekend.

We even seemed to get the weather right, although on a couple of days the sun did leave it until the last minute to come out.

Now that the really busy period has passed, we have a bit of time to gather our breath and, if the warm weather continues, have a slightly quieter good time.

Wallingford is blessed with lots of open space where everyone can have fun without spending any money.

Two of the best places to go are the splash park by the riverside, where children (and the odd adult) can run around in random jets of water and generally have a brilliant if often noisy time, and the Castle Gardens, which quite a few people came across for the first time when part of the recreation of the Siege of Wallingford was staged there.

The Castle Gardens are a quieter place, with formal and more informal garden areas offering lots of places to sit and enjoy the calm.

Once each month in the summer the town council organises a band concert on a Sunday afternoon, and a local organisation will sell tea and cakes to raise funds.

It is a splendidly English way to spend an afternoon and one I highly recommend!

So, why not take a bit of time to visit one of our hidden gems, take a picnic, and really relax.

Baby assault

BICESTER: A Bicester man who assaulted a 10-month-old baby has been jailed for 27 months.

Owen Gaskins, 34, of West Street, pleaded guilty to one count of grievous bodily harm on July 3 and was sentenced the same day.

It relates to when Gaskins was left to look after the baby on March 21, 2013.

The baby was taken to hospital with injuries that resulted in brain and eye haemorrhages.

Crimes linked

OXFORD: An assault in which a man touched a teenage girl inappropriately over her clothing in the Fiddlers Island area of Port Meadow on July 3 is being linked to an assault in the area later that evening.

A teenage girl was sexually assaulted at around 8pm on Friday, and police have linked the assault to another incident in which two people pushed a man into the river between 8.30pm and 9.15pm.

The victim, a man in his 30s, was then punched and kicked by his attackers and suffered a laceration to his shoulder and cuts to his head.

A 19-year-old man, 33-year-old woman and 16-year-old girl, all from Oxford, were arrested on July 3 and have been released on bail.

What does the budget mean for Oxford?

LAST Wednesday the Chancellor of the Exchequer George Osborne delivered the government's emergency budget, but what will the changes mean for Oxfordshire residents?

Changes to benefits and a new minumun wage were expected to be the big hitters.

By 2020 a new minimum wage has been set as £9 an hour.

From next April the current £6.50 minimum wage is to rise for over 25s to £7.20.

Rent for residents in council and housing associations will be upped if their household income is more than £30,000 a year.

Oxfordshire County Council, leader Ian Hudspeth (Con) heralded ' a great budget for hard working people in Oxfordshire' while Oxford City Council deputy leader and board member for finance, Ed Turner, called it 'heart breaking to think what the consequences of benefit cuts will be'.

Cllr Hudspeth added: "I think the budget is looking to move away from the merry-go-round of people stuck on benefits.

However Cllr Turner said: "Speaking to friends and family who live in my ward of Iffley and Rose Hill some will be losing out to the tune of a couple of hundred pounds."

Rowers' tough task across Spanish seas

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

DIDCOT teenager Eoin Hartwright has already made his mark in the World Record books.

The 18-year-old became the youngest person to row 3,000 miles across the Atlantic Ocean last year.

And he is turning his seafaring skills to a different challenge on Saturday to raise awareness of a virus that causes cancer.

Eoin will be joined by 27-year-old Oxford rower Stephanie Jones and three others from across England to row 200 miles from Ibiza to Barcelona to fundraise for NOMAN.

The charity campaigns for a vaccination against human papilloma virus (HPV) – which causes five per cent of cancer cases.

Eoin, a student at The Oratory School in Woodcote until earlier this month, said: "Now I've got my exams out of the way, I'm desperate to get back behind the oars and take up another challenge alongside my teammates.

"I can't wait to be back out on the open waters underneath the stars, all for a fantastic and worthy cause.

"I'm incredibly excited. I absolutely love the ocean."

The quest will set off on July 18 until July 21.

Two teams will each row up to 12 hours a day and could take about 72 hours.

Eoin added: "HPV is something I knew nothing about before researching the race.

"Neither my friends nor my parents knew anything about the virus or the cancers it can cause, so I jumped at the opportunity to raise awareness of something that has such a major impact on my peer group."

Currently in the UK, all girls aged 12 to 13 are offered HPV vaccinations to protect against cervical cancer.

Stephanie is a senior research scientist at Oxford University who recently completed her PhD that focused on cancer research.

She also rowed for Merton College in the 2012 women's Oxford University Boat Race.

Stephanie, who lives near Folly Bridge, said: "Like most people in this world I have known people who have fought and won but also fought and lost the battle with cancer.

"Having worked as a cancer research scientist I know all too well the complications and complexities we face in finding a cure."

The group has already raised £46,000 of their £200,000 target.

WIN tickets to Memphis in London's West End

EVERY night audiences are singing and dancing their way out of Memphis, the Olivier Award-winning smash-hit that's taken the roof off the West End, and you could have a chance to join them courtesy of this week's fantastic competition.

Voted by theatregoers as Best New Musical at the 2015 WhatsOnStage Awards, its explosive blend of electrifying music and breathtaking energy has made it the show everyone's raving about.

Join radio DJ Huey Calhoun, played by X Factor winner Matt Cardle, who dreams of changing the world, and club singer Felicia Farrell, played by Queen of British Soul Beverley Knight, who's ready for her big break, as they join unlikely forces to take the hip-shaking sounds of soul and rock 'n' roll from the underground clubs of Memphis to the kids right across America. A hilarious, moving and exhilarating tale of fame, forbidden love and incredible music is inspired by the true events of 1950s Tennessee, where change was in the air and revolution was on the airwaves.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Cornbury Festival 2015

YOU know a musical festival is worth the wait when you travel for more than three hours and camp out a day before it actually starts.

That is the length four 16-year-olds from Maidstone went to when Cornbury Music Festival returned for it's 13th year last weekend.

From Friday until Sunday musicians including Tom Jones, Blue, Razorlight and Lulu all graced stages at Great Tew Estate near Banbury.

Festival first timer Maisie Broszek, 16, said: "This is actually my first ever festival I've been to so I was really excited.

"I couldn't wait to hear The Fratellies the most.

"Even though I'm not a huge fan I do like listening to a couple of their songs, and I couldn't wait to hear Chelsea Dagger live."

Maisie's boyfriend Harry Smith, 16, added: "This is better than doing your GCSEs!

"It was just so much fun and we got to see so many different people.

"I personally think it's really important for fans to come and see their favourite musicians live and one of the best things about going to the festival is that it's so chilled out.

"It's a really family orientated and friendly so that's been pretty cool."

This year's Cornbury Festival was also a debut for five-piece American band Larkin Poe, fronted by sisters Megan and Rebecca Lovell.

The rock and roll group first gained recognition after touring with Elvis Costello back in the US, and released their debut album, 'KIN' last summer.

"We really like touring in the UK and Europe," 24-year-old Rebecca said.

"The audience in the UK are so loyal and I think you all as a general rule really support live music. Brits are like show hounds and we really appreciate that.

Megan, 26, added: "Everyone has been talking to us about Cornbury.

"And over the last couple of years of being a band we have definitely evolved from being a roots Americana band to a straight up rock and roll band.

"As performers, we were here to literally kick the door downs, storm in and take no prisoners."

The sisters revealed Larkin Poe was their great-great-great-great grandfather's name, adopted as the title of the band so it had huge meaning for them.

Jake Quickenden 'Laid Bare'

"PEOPLE are expecting me to sit on a chair, most likely topless, while playing my guitar - but they're in for a shock," reality TV star and double X Factor contestant Jake Quickenden declared.

As quickly as he was knocked out X Factor at his second attempt in 2014, the 26-year-old hit TV screens again on 'I'm a Celebrity...Get Me Out of Here'.

But he's leaving filming behind for his first music tour – stopping at Oxford's O2 Academy tomorrow night, July 17.

"I want to be the very best that I can be and that means investing my time and every single ounce of energy I have into what I love - the music," Jake told the Guardian.

"The X Factor helped me find my feet and I'll be forever grateful, but this is a new chapter in my life and one that I cannot wait to share with you all.

"I think time has made me a better singer."

Before X Factor Jake worked various jobs to make ends meet; in McDonald's, as a lifeguard and as a semi-professional footballer in his hometown Scunthorpe - before breaking his leg.

He hit the music scene three years ago after auditioning for the X Factor, where he reached the judges' houses stage.

And two years later, he was back on X Factor and progressed to the live shows before being eliminated in the third round of live performances.

He then switched X Factor for 'I'm a Celebrity...Get Me Out of Here' – where he went one better and bagged the runner-up title.

Jake's debut tour 'Laid Bare' comes ahead of his EP, to be released this summer.

"I think people are expecting me to sit on a chair, most likely be topless, while playing my guitar, but they're in for a shock," Jake said.

"Those coming to watch me tour will have to first listen to all those songs that will be on my EP. It will be a mix of new with old; a fusion of pop and summer feel good tracks.

"I am very excited to show people who I am as an artist."

He added: "The 'Laid Bare' concept is based on being stripped back without all the bright lights and smoke machines."

"It's me, myself and I on stage. Stripped back and being as transparent as I possibly can be with the fans."

Doors at the Cowley Road venue open at 7pm.

The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time

'THE Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time' is at Oxford's New Theatre this week.

Written by Northampton author Mark Haddon in 2003, the adaptation began its run of shows on Tuesday, and curtains fall for the final time at the theatre this Saturday, July 18.

The mystery novel follows autistic 15-year-old Christopher Boone, who discovers the body of his neighbour's dead dog which was speared by a garden fork.

Christopher decides to copy his hero Sherlock Holmes and investigate when and why Wellington was killed.

But his research brings up some murky events about his past.

Lucas Hare plays Roger Shears in the production; who used to be married to Wellington's owner.

Lucas said: "It's pretty fast-moving and at times emotional.

"Its funny but there's a fair bit of swearing, so it would be irresponsible for me to say that it's for all ages but children 11 and older, in particular, absolutely love it and so do adults.

"We've had some very heartfelt, emotional responses all over the country, but best of all, it's a chance for people who can't get to London or New York to find out what all the fuss is about"

Author Mark Haddon, who went to Merton College, could be counted among the audience.

His book has gone on to become one of the most successful in the UK having sold over two million copies, and was the third best-selling book of the decade.

It was made a stage play in 2012, and both production and novel have won a total of 30 awards between them.

"I was at the National Theatre when they were rehearsing the original cast three years ago and since then, it's gone on to be one of the most successful productions in the country – and not just this country," Lucas said.

"In general, I try not to go for these long tours as they're quite tough on my family, but this job seemed worth making an exception for.

"I've never been in anything quite like it. I'm pretty sure that the other 14 actors involved would say the same thing."

The Neville Staple Band

TO celebrate the 35th anniversary of Oxford ska group The Inflatables, reggae and dance musician Neville Staple is bringing his own band to Oxford's O2 Academy this Saturday, July 18.

The Neville Staple Band will bring music of Jamaica to Cowley Road.

Neville Staple was born in Manchester, Jamaica, in 1955 before his family moved to Britain four years later.

He grew up in Coventry where he met radio DJ and record producer Pete Waterman, and the two struck up a friendship that helped get Neville's name known in the music industry.

"The Inflatables seem like a great bunch of local Oxford guys who do some great ska covers and I think I've heard one or two of their own tracks too.

"I've been in music for well over 40 years, so 35 years is great going for The Inflatables - congratulations to them."

The 60-year old was a member of popular ska group The Specials.

During his three spells with the group, the band scored two number one singles in the UK with 'To Much Too You' (1980) and 'Ghost Town' (1981).

Neville spent years in America making music with the likes of No Doubt, Rancid, DesordenPúblico and toured the world as Neville Staple & The Hitmen.

"When I later returned to the UK in the early 2000s, I created the Neville Staple Band and have been with these guys ever since," he added

"They're all brilliant musicians and most have been with me all along, with one or two new members coming in here and there.

"We have a lot of fun with the crowd and all have a lot of trust, friendship and care for each other – something that was missing in The Specials."

He added: "I have performed in Oxford before and love the crowd. They always know the words, they sing along, they a create a party atmosphere which is how I do things.

"They need to be prepared to jump, stomp and sing with me on July 18."

Suitable for over 18's, the gig starts at 7pm with tickets costing £22.50.

Classic Vauxhall motors make a comeback

BY reviving the 'Viva' name for its latest supermini, Vauxhall is proving it is in touch with its past.

By James Richings

But the British car manufacturer's long and illustrious history goes back much further than the 1960s family car.

The first Vauxhall car was built in 1903 in Vauxhall, south London, ¬before the company moved two years later to its current home in Luton.

And this year Vauxhall opened its own heritage centre at its base, housing various cars from throughout the company's history.

One of the most important is a 1904 6hp single-cylinder two-seater, but this is no dusty museum piece.

This car is still used regularly and is entered for the 2015 Bonhams London to Brighton Veteran Car Run on November 1.

The car has taken part in the world's longest-running motoring event 53 times in the past.

During one of its earliest entries in 1927 it was driven by Vauxhall's then managing director Percy Kidner.

And hopefully this year, the 6hp car will be joined by its 1903 5hp sister following major mechanical restoration.

The 5hp model has completed nine runs in Vauxhall's 20-year ownership.

"Vauxhall has been a regular in the run since the 1950s with either and sometimes both of our veterans," Vauxhall spokesman Denis Chick said.

"This year is particularly poignant as Vauxhall celebrates 110 years of vehicle production at its Luton plant, and 90 years of ownership by General Motors.

"We look forward to sampling the sea air yet again in 2015!"

The Bonhams London to Brighton Veteran Car Run is the pinnacle event in a week of motoring nostalgia during "London Motor Week", where a series of events are hosted by the world famous Royal Automobile Club.

United draw a blank in feisty Austrian trial

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

UNITED'S hyped-up trip to take on SC Wiener Neudstadt on Tuesday night proved less exciting than expected in a 0-0 draw at the Stadion Wiener Neustadt.

A strong-looking 11 took to the pitch, backed up around 200 travelling Oxford fans with new signings Sam Slocombe, Liam Sercombe, Kemar Roofe, George Baldock and Ryan Taylor all getting time on the pitch.

The closest chance to a goal came early on from winger Alex MacDonald, who tested Neudstadt keeper Martin Fraisl with a fine effort that was deflected over the bar by a defender.

MacDonald came close again minutes after, wriggling through the defence before firing a shot that cannoned off the left hand post in a strong performance from the 25-year-old.

A positive for the Yellows was that the midfield paring of Michael Collins and Liam Sercombe looked sharp and tight as they packed the midfield, working the ball well.

United's back four seemed tight and gave Slocombe plenty of encouragement as a strong defensive unit with the new number 1 given a fairly relaxed afternoon between the posts.

Taylor kept making runs for the ball at the top of the field but due to a number of feisty fouls, he was unable to make a real impact on the game.

Forward James Roberts also came on on the hour mark for Taylor and looked to cause the Neudstadt defence problems but he could not break the deadlock and the game teetered out in the end.

Collins said after the game: "The fans support was incredible, it felt like a proper European cup tie and I can't thank the fans enough.

"The game was competitive, as we wanted. Both sides went at it in the right way and we learned plenty tonight. We played well and hopefully the fans enjoyed the match as well as the whole day."

Right-back Baldock added: "We knew there would be a lot of fans out here but the reception we got and the support was way beyond our expectations."

Pepperell two shots off winning Scottish Open

ABINGDON'S rising Golfing star, Eddie Pepperell produced a blinding display to finish tied fourth at the Aberdeen Asset Management Scottish Open at Gullane Golf Club.

The Frilford Heath member's one-under-par 69 in the weekend's final round gave him a 10-under-par overall score.

Pepperell had shown his true form in a scintillating golfing display on the Saturday in which he managed to finish five-under-par after seven holes.

The Abingdon golfer finished his Thursday and Friday rounds with comfortable scores of 70 and 66, scoring a round of 65 on the Saturday before finishing Sunday's round with 69 giving him a total of 270.

His fourth-place finish was tied with Dutch golfer Joost Luiten and Marc Warren and it saw him take him €193,789 in prize money.

The event was won by American Rickie Fowler who finished with twelve-under-par meaning Pepperell missed out by just two shots overall.

Pepperell is all set to compete in the four-day 144th Open Championship at St Andrews, which starts today.

City held to goalless draw by tough Marlow

OXFORD City couldn't break down a stubborn Marlow side in a enthralling 0-0 draw.

Justin Merritt's side were unable to make a dent in the Buckinghamshire side at the Park and Garden Stadium in Marlow on Tuesday night.

Merritt's men had previously dispatched Hungerford Town in a 4-1 victory at Faraday Road on the Saturday afternoon to kick-start their pre-season.

City had the edge over Town from the off and Anders Del Alamo fired City in front just four minutes into the game.

Hungerford responded well to going a goal down and they managed to get themselves on the score board when Stephen Brown blasted a penalty into the net.

Another penalty was then given, this time for City and Paul Stonehouse put it into the net just six minutes before the half-time whistle.

Oxford then managed to round the game off with a flourish in the second half as Conor Waldron made it three.

City's Bradley Bubb then put the icing on the cake, finishing well to seal of City's first-pre-season game with a win.

Merrit's men will then march over to local Oxfordshire rivals Didcot Town for an enticing encounter at the Loop Meadow Stadium on Saturday.

Witney fight night is a proven hit

FORMER professional boxer and owner of Mullins Boxing Club, Steve Mullins, stepped back into the ring at the tenth Witney Fight Club.

The show at the sold-out Windrush Leisure Centre in Witney featured a stacked card of local fighters.

The night's main event saw Witney's Mullins take on Swindon's Paul Bunney in a three rounder at 85kg.

Mullins got the action started before the first bell, giving Bunney a vicious shove on entering the ring.

The shove was a sign of things to come.

Mullins dominated the fight with his left hand, punishing Bunney by doubling up on the left hooks.

After hitting canvas early in the second round Bunney managed to stick the fight out.

Mullins was awarded the unanimous points decision without needing to unleash the right hand.

He said after the fight: "I feel very good. It felt very comfortable being back in the ring. "

The fight of the night came from a local derby on the undercard.

Witney and Mullins Boxing Club fighter, Luke Warner took on Kieran Saunders from Oxford Martial Arts Academy (OMAA) at 74kg.

The fight quickly became a vicious battle between the two Oxfordshire boys, with Saunders throwing fists from every direction early on.

But Warner kept his cool delivering head-body combinations even Tyson would be proud of.

Warner's left eye was opened up in the second round by an accidental head butt and Saunders looked to capitalise on the injury.

However, Warner took control of the fight, and Saunders began to show signs of fatigue.

The judges scored it 29 to 28 in favour of Warner at the end of a great fight.

The Guardian spoke to Warner in the changing rooms.

The 25-year-old said: "Saunders definitely came out swinging.

"I thought I was losing at first because he was just throwing so many punches.

"I'm looking forward to getting back in the ring in November."

Steve Mullins added: "The night's been a great success and we're looking to come back bigger and better at our next fight night November. "

Bicester swim star targets Tokyo 2020

BICESTER'S swimming star Kieran Bird has managed to be selected in the European Youth Olympic Festival as he bids to secure his Tokyo 2020 dream.

The 15-year-old qualified for the Festival event in Tbilisi to represent Team GB, which starts on July 26, after winning the junior 200m butterfly at the British Championships in April.

Bird said: "This kind of event is definitely ideal preparation for the Olympics. This is the first step towards making the Olympic team and achieving my dream of competing.

"It's the primary objective of my career and a realistic goal. I will have a lot of growing to do in five year's time and representing Team GB is my first big step."

The Bicester Blue Fins swimmer also finished third in the junior 400m freestyle at the British Championships.

Bird said he has ranked sixth or seventh in Europe for his age group wants to make a final.

He only recently completed in his first international competition in Italy in May this year where he represented England.

He added: "This is definitely the biggest competition I will have been a part of. It is really exciting. This will be my first major international event so I just want to take in the occasion and enjoy it.

"This is definitely the biggest competion I will have been a part of. My training for the last few months has been really hard and I have been really focussed on the event for a while now."

Smith secures nervy sixth place finish

OXFORD'S Bradley Smith rode a stunning race to secure sixth place at the GoPro Motorrad Grand Prix in Germany on Sunday despite not being able to put his left knee down during the Moto GP race's closing stages.

The Monster Yamaha Tech 3 rider started the race from the back of the third row but managed to steer himself into seventh by the end of the first lap.

Smith consolidated himself into sixth position later on and then got in a tussle with Brit Cal Crutchlow in the race's closing laps.

The Oxford rider managed to hold off Crutchlow from coming too close in order to secure the sixth-placed finish.

The result means he is now equal fifth in the championship with 87 points as the tournament heads into a summer break.

He said: "I am pleased with the performance, especially as it was a tricky race where I had to give 100 per cent but also remain smooth.

Smith claimed he could not put his left leg down during the race due to wearing out his knee slider early on in the race.

"We are the top satellite bike again which is really positive but I am disappointing with the fact that I qualified in ninth and this is an area which I need to improve."

MOTOR SPORT: Jason Plato's BMR team is to be one of four teams that will take part in the official Dunlop tyre test at Snetterton tomorrow.

Honda Racing, West Surrey Racing and Triple Eight Racing will each test the new type of tyre.

Plato has previously criticised the wear rate of the soft tyre this season.

Oxford annilihated 96-4 in Swinton humiliation

IT'S very rare that such a categorically humbling result is inflicted on an Oxford side, however, that was the case as Oxford headed out for a pummelling 4-96 defeat to Swinton Lions last Sunday.

Lions' winger Ian Mort scored six tries and kicked eleven points as John Duffy's men led Oxford 52-0 at half-time.

The match was switched to Hemel Hempstead due to maintenance work at Oxford's Iffley Road pitch.

Ben White opened the scoring for Swinton, going over eight minutes into the game before Ritchie Hawkyard added a second.

Mort added a third before Rob Lever and Hawkyard crossed for the second time.

A quick brace was then scored by Mort before Chris Atkin was next to strike four minutes before the break.

There was still time for Hawkyard to dive over and Mort to convert.

In the second half Swinton continued Oxford's humiliation and Connor Dwyer went over before Mort then went over once more and then converted his try.

Chris Rothwell and Andy Ackers then picked up tries before Mort and Atkin got their names back on the score sheet.

Oxford finally managed to get some points on the board through Adam Withington's try but Sean Morris couldn't make the conversion.

Swinton then finished the Blues off with two more punishing tries from Mike Morrison and Shaun Robinson.

Stars turn to youth in three new signings

OXFORD City Stars improved their roster for the new season with a triple signing last week.

Up front they have signed 'young, talented' Ben Ealey-Newman, an 18-year-old, who the Stars have taken from Slough Jets and who has a stack of goals to his name.

Ealey-Newman has recently made the step up from Slough's Under-18s and has previously played alongside Star players Alan Green and Andy Cox.

Stars head coach Simon Anderson said: "Ben is a strong kid, works the walls and corners well, has a tremendous release and he deserves the chance to show that he can do at this level."

Jason Ikin, also 18, who arrives from the Bracknell Drones Under-18's and the young defenceman has turned plenty of heads in his career so far.

Anderson said on Ikin: "He came to skate during our summer league and I like what I saw – I just have a feeling he is going to be a decent signing for us."

The Stars have also added 21-year-old netminder Shannon Long to contest Connor Ranby's spot.

Anderson said: "We believe he will be the right guy to contest Connor's sport and give us two quality netminders. We believe he's going to be that man."

UNITED SECURE FIFTH SIGNING OF THE SUMMER

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

ABINGDON United have begun their preparations for the new season in the Hellenic League Premier Division by adding their fifth signing of the summer.

United announced on Monday that former United player Adam Bowerman has re-signed for the club.

New manager Steve Alman said of the signings: "We definitely feel that these signings will make us stronger for this season and we'll look to bring in a few more.

"I'm confident that we will be competitive this season and quietly build on to the next one.

"Our challenge is to bring these players together as a team and to play in my way but also one that embraces the club's philosophy."

Alman made it clear that he wants United to finish 'as high as possible and to challenge at all times"

Bowerman had spells at Carterton and Woodstock Town and is described by his new club as a player of 'great technical ability' who uses the ball intelligently.

The midfielder is set to work as a player that links the defence through to the attack and is set to add 'valuable experience to the town'.

United also picked up young keeper Kieron Brown on Sunday, who spent time with Premier League club West Bromwich Albion in his younger years.

A club statement said: "Kieron is a young, but very confident individual who has good size, agility and strength for his age."

United also picked up versatile defender Dan Hunt from the Wycombe Wanderers Academy Football Programme last Saturday, and attacking midfielder Zac Field and forward George Reid from Wantage Town joined the club last Monday.

Dan is described in a club statement as 'versatile to play in defence or midfield' although he regards himself as a centre back.

The statement said: "Centre back is where Dan has been at his most impressive – he has the confidence to drive out with the ball and is certainly a determined player."

Field is a tricky midfielder that can also lead the line or play out wide and Reid is described as a pacey and skillful forward.

United are set to begin their pre-season preparations with an encounter with North Leigh next Tuesday before facing Woodstock Town next Saturday.
